NOVEMBER 2017 NEWSLETTER

PROGRESS REPORTS AND PARENT TEACHER INTERVIEWS

In November, all schools will be issuing a Progress Report Card that does not include “marks”. Instead, it reports on learning skills or work habits, as well as strengths and next steps to assist in improving student learning in subject areas.

This Progress Report will provide students and parents with early and specific feedback on the progress made during the first two months of the school year. It will tell you how your child is doing in all subjects using the words: “progressing very well”, “progressing well” or “progressing with difficulty”. After the Progress Reports go home, there will be an opportunity to schedule a parent/teacher interview, on the evening of November 23rd and during the PA Day on November 24th. This is your chance to find out early in the school year how your child is progressing, what the school will do to help and what you can do at home to support his/her learning.

The February and June report cards will follow a more traditional format with marks for all subjects. Learning skills will once again be highlighted because developing good work habits is crucial for your child to be successful in school and later in life.

Changes to End of Day Plans

The end of the school day is often a busy time of day. Parents are reminded to please call the office before 1:30 pm if you are making a change to any same day pick up, bus information or after school activities such as play dates.

Stop a Bully! On-Line Reporting Tool

Did you know that in the majority of cases, bullying stops within 10 seconds when peers intervene or don't support the bullying behavior? The Upper Grand District School Board takes all incidents of bullying seriously. That's why we developed an online bullying reporting tool. Stop a Bully gives students and parents 24/7 access for reporting bullying. You don't have to identify yourself – just your school – and your message gets sent directly to your school principal for follow-up. We will follow up on your report. You'll find the Stop a Bully button on our school's website and the board's website www.udsb.opn.ca/stop-a-bully. If your child is the victim of bullying or sees bullying behavior at school, please encourage him/her to speak with someone at school or use the Stop a Bully tool. For more information, contact the school.

What's the Difference between Conflict and Bullying?

Is conflict the same as bullying? People may sometimes confuse conflict with bullying, but they are different. Conflict occurs between two or more people who have a disagreement, a difference of opinion or different views. Conflict between students does not always mean its bullying. Children learn at a young age to understand that others can have a different perspective than their own, but developing the ability to gain perspective takes time and the process continues into early adulthood. In conflict, each person feels comfortable expressing his or her view point, and there is no power imbalance. Each person feels able to state his or her view point. How people deal with conflict can make it positive or negative. Conflict becomes negative when an individual behaves aggressively by saying or doing hurtful things. Then the conflict is an aggressive interaction. Conflict only becomes bullying when it is repeated over and over again and there is a power imbalance. Over time, a pattern of behaviour may emerge where the person who behaves aggressively in the conflict may continue or even make it worse. The person who is the recipient of the aggressive conflict may feel less and less able to express his or her point of view and feel more and more powerless. That is when negative conflict may turn into bullying. A school will respond to bullying and conflict differently. For example, in the case of a conflict, a school staff member may try to have the students come together to tell their side of the story and help resolve the situation together. In the case of bullying a principal will consider progressive discipline, which may include suspension or expulsion.

Eco Team

The Eco Team members are busy sharing their knowledge about waste minimization throughout the school. The Team has made presentations to primary classrooms to help them divert their waste properly. The Team continues to encourage students and staff to bring litterless lunches to school every day. A "Waste Free Lunch Challenge" was held last week. Congratulations to Miss Corcho's 7/8 class who had 0.75 kg of waste for the week. If a litterless lunch is not possible, the Eco Team is encouraging a "Boomerang Lunch," where students are asked to take waste back home after their snacks / lunches have been eaten.

This month the Eco Team will be placing pizza box lids over our garbage cans and decorating them with waste minimizing messages. Mini waste and electrical audits will be held throughout this month, as well as the annual GOOS (Good On One Side paper) bin challenge.

Thanks to all parents and caregivers for your efforts to support our initiatives.

Terra Cycle's mission is to eliminate the idea of waste. A variety of programs are offered to collect previously non-recyclable or hard to recycle waste. The collected waste is then converted into new products, ranging from recycled park benches to upcycled backpacks. Grand Valley students bring a lot of these hard to recycle waste products to school in their lunches. Terra Cycle points are collected (we currently have 1600) and can eventually be used to redeem items in each classroom. The following products may be dropped off in your child's class or the Custodian's Office: Schneider's Lunchmates. plastic cutlery and all yogurt containers.

Partners in Education

Parents play a vital role in the development and education of their children and in the success of schools. Parent involvement includes a range of activities from good parenting, helping with homework, serving on school councils and board or provincial committees, communicating and meeting with teachers, and volunteering in the classroom or on school trips.

Good schools are better where there is a stronger connection with parents as part of the learning environment.

School councils focus on engaging parents and fostering parental involvement within their school community as a key factor in assisting with student achievement.

Where does your role as a parent fit into this partnership?

Join other parents at the next school council meeting and be a more active partner in your child's / children's success at school.

Our next School Council will be on Monday, November 6th, 2017 at 6:30pm.
